

POISONED CANDY

Given By a Woman to a Child Caused Death of Little Boy—Suspect Admits She Bought Poison But Denies Giving it to Child.

Bunker Hill, Ill., July 31.—Ewart Checkfield, the six-year-old son of James W. Checkfield, local manager of the Union Dairy company, of St. Louis died Wednesday night from spasms under such suspicious circumstances that a coroner's inquest was held. Undeniable evidences of strychnine poisoning were found.

As a result the people of the little town were thrown into wild excitement. Checkfield recently came here and succeeded G. Muller as manager of the dairy company. He had no enemies, so far as known, and no adequate motive for the murder of the little boy can be suggested.

Suspicion points strongly to a prominent woman of this city, however, and the developments of the case are expected to prove astounding.

Little Ewart Checkfield was the only son of his father and invalid mother. He made regular morning and evening trips to the milkhouse for his father, and each time filled his bucket with milk. Wednesday evening he departed from his home on his usual errand, swinging his bucket to and fro in childish light-heartedness.

At 7:30 o'clock he returned home crying. His father ran to meet him and anxiously inquired what was the matter. The boy replied that a "lady" had given him a piece of candy which was bitter. On being questioned he said the woman had only one piece of candy, and that it was wrapped up in a piece of paper and she told him to

GERMANY IGNORED BY FOUR POWERS

Berlin, July 31.—In spite of the apparent unconcern of the official press, which continues to assure the people that Germany is well satisfied with the entente cordiale which has sprung between England and France, it is not concealing the fact that deep anxiety is felt in official circles on account of Germany's isolated position.

While the old German-Austrian-Italian triple alliance is weakened every day, a new powerful combination of powers arise threateningly in the political horizon. Though there is no official alliance between the countries it is clear that every day draws England, France, Italy and Russia closer together in an alliance which leaves Germany absolutely isolated, as not even Austria can be counted upon.

The German people realize the government is not without blame. Its policy has been without any fixed goal. It cannot be denied that the political equilibrium of Europe has been disturbed by President Loubet's visit to England. France occupies undeniably the position formerly held by Germany as the most wooded European power.

The anxiety of the kaiser was plainly shown by the kaiser's recent visit to the late Pope Leo and by his so-much-criticized friendship to the United States.

The German army is powerful but the possibility of an alliance between Russia, France and England, is looming up and is doing more than anything else to disturb the kaiser's peace of mind.

THE FEUDISTS' ALIBI UPSET.

Cynthiana, Ky., July 31.—The alibi set forth by the defense in the trials of Jett and White for the assassination of J. B. Marcum has been completely upset by the commonwealth, which produced new and startling evidence not only corroborating B. J. Ewen and other witnesses, but strengthening the theory of a conspiracy. Testimony was offered that Curtis Jett was in the court house at the time of the murder, and that at a signal, he followed Tom White, who left the courthouse first and attracted Marcum's attention while Jett fired from behind.

Barney Cehiff, a produce buyer, whose home is Charleston, W. Va., testified that he had seen Curtis Jett go into the courthouse a few minutes before the killing of Marcum and come out immediately after the firing of the two shots. He is badly scared, and

KILLS HIS WIFE; BURGLAR ESCAPES

Fulton, Ky., July 31.—Mistaking his wife for a burglar, Charles Binford fatally shot her at 2 a. m. Mrs. Binford was awakened by burglars at a window and called her husband.

In the confusion that followed Mrs. Binford was shot and the burglar escaped.

Talk is said to be cheap; yet some people indulge in extravagant remarks.

ALDERMAN'S VISIT DRIVES MAN MAD

Danville, Ill., July 31.—The police have arrested Winfred Baker, who, it is said, led the mob in its attack on the jail Saturday last. Officers found him working in a coal mine. Baker came from Kentucky a few weeks ago. He was armed when arrested.

Three more arrests were made in addition to that of the alleged leader, making 17 in all. More warrants are still out and officers expect to have 25 members of the mob in jail Saturday.

Council has passed resolutions commending Sheriff Whitlock for firing into the mob that attacked the jail and defending prisoners in his custody. Council inspected the city prison to see the damage wrought by the mob that lynched Metcalf, the slayer of Gatterman. When the aldermen entered the lockup in a body they frightened a negro prisoner into temporary insanity, as he was under the impression that a mob had called for him. He could not be reassured and the aldermen retired.

YOUNG GIRL WAS FOUND HIDING UNDER A HOUSE.

Goaded by Thirst She Picked Hole in Water Pipe and Thus Destroyed Her Hiding Place.

Chicago, July 31.—On the verge of death from starvation Emma Neisler, 14 years old, has been found, after figuring in one of the most remarkable cases ever reported to the police. For three weeks the girl had been hidden under her home at 601 Hastings street, supplied with food by an eight-year-old sister. Meantime the police of Chicago were searching for her. She was only found after she had become nearly crazed by thirst and had picked a hole in the lead water pipe with a hairpin and cut off the water supply in the house. When a plumber was called to discover the leak he found the girl lying under the house, pale and weak from her imprisonment and lack of sufficient food.

Back of the girl's mysterious disappearance lies a story of her arrest on the charge of disorderly conduct, which it is said, was followed by a severe whipping administered by her father, August Neisler. Fear of further punishment caused the girl to flee, and when she found that she had no other place to go she took refuge under the little cottage in Hastings street, unknown to any one except a younger sister, who never revealed her hiding place, although the mother and father were grieving over the missing daughter, thinking that she had killed herself.

The case was called before Justice Sabath several weeks ago. The girl had been arrested in company with Laura Werner, 17 years old, who lives at 499 Hastings street. Both girls were charged with disorderly conduct. The arrest had been made on complaint of neighbors, who said the girls had annoyed them. The girls were allowed to go to their homes. Both fathers punished their daughters and the girls witnessed each other's chastisement. Their parents do not deny that it was severe.

Will Probe Bribery

Budapest, July 31.—It is reported that the public prosecutor has instituted proceedings against former Deputy Dienes, who was charged by Deputy Zolman Papp in the lower house of the Diet with attempting to bribe him with 10,000 kronen in cash to desert his fellow obstructionists and leave Budapest.

THREE MEN SAVED BY YOUNG WOMAN

Bridgeport, Conn., July 31.—In spite of an angry sea, Miss Mattie Miller, a handsome young woman of Brooklyn, saved the lives of three wealthy residents of this city.

Early in the evening Charles Brandt, George Taylor and J. H. French of this city, went for a sail in a small catboat.

When about a mile off shore a squall struck their boat, overturning it. All three managed to cling to the bottom of the overturned craft.

The accident was witnessed by several of the cottagers, including Miss Miller.

Without waiting for any one to suggest it, she rushed down the beach, sprang into her rowboat and was soon pulling on the oars for dear life.

It did not take her long to reach the thoroughly tired and exhausted men, who had been repeatedly swept off the overturned boat into the water. Miss Miller showed what a good sailor she was by the manner in which she maneuvered the boat, taking each man off in turn and running little risk of capsizing.

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE PERSONS

Lynchburg, Va., July 31.—Three persons were killed and more than a score injured by lightning at New Hope church, Appomattox county, yesterday afternoon.

The dead: Paul Gowen, Charles Austin, Aubrey Wingfield.

Seriously injured: Nathaniel Morris, Eugene Turner, Tom Coleman, Napoleon Patterson.

A meeting of the James River Baptist association was in progress and a number of men took refuge from the storm under an awning near the building.

GORED BY COW.

Lishon, O., July 31.—Eliphas Cope, a nurseryman living near Rogers, this county, was gored by a cow yesterday. Members of the family beat off the brute and saved his life, but not before he had lost consciousness. The doctors think he will recover.

MISS DOLLY

WHO JILTED THE SON OF RICH INDIANAPOLIS MAN.

Continues to Keep in the Background and Cannot be Found.—No Word From Her.

St. Louis, Mo., July 31.—The search for Dolly Douglass continues, but no trace has been found of the girl who disappeared at the Union Station a few minutes before she was to have taken a train for Indianapolis to wed Leonard G. Sargent, son of a wealthy lumberman of that city.

Young Sargent arrived in St. Louis and assisted the police and the girl's family in their search. All of the girl's friends of Miss Douglass were seen, but none of them could give any information. Disheartened and considerably humiliated by the manner in which he was jilted by the girl he loved young Sargent took the night train back to Indianapolis. When he first arrived in the city he was loath to believe that the girl had really disappeared in so sensational a manner merely to avoid marrying him, and inclined to the belief that there was a mystery in the case. But, after seeing the letter Miss Douglass wrote to her mother the day after she disappeared, Mr. Sargent decided that he could not persuade his former sweetheart to marry him, even if he were successful in finding her.

This envelope had been addressed by Miss Dolly to her parents' home, 4427 A Easton avenue, but it was supposed that she had left instructions with the postoffice authorities for it to be forwarded to her present address. The letter conveying the envelope was mailed Tuesday afternoon at the main postoffice, while that which was returned to Mrs. Douglass Thursday morning bore the postmark of Station 5, a substation in the neighborhood of the Douglass home.

SPEND $3000 FOR STEER WORTH $30

Macon, Mo., July 31.—Two wealthy Missouri farmers are sounding the tocsin of their respective clans, preparatory to lining up for the battle of their lives.

When John Massengale of Macon county and Elijah E. Rose of North Canton county, went into a Bee Branch justice's court in November, 1889, over a $30 steer they never dreamed that by the beginning of August, 1903, they would still be fighting with increased fierceness over the same miserable scrub.

These two determined Missouri farmers and their army of witnesses have confronted juries four times in justice's and circuit courts, and the case has been to the Kansas City court of appeals.

The costs now amount to more than $3000 and are still growing like interest on a note past due. The coming trial will be the sixth.

RACE QUESTION

BOTHERING OFFICERS OF ARMY AND NAVY.

First Colored Person Has Yet to Graduate from the United States Naval Academy.

Washington, July 31.—The race question again bids fair to worry the officers of the army and navy.

Delegate Wilcox of Hawaii has appointed a native Hawaiian as cadet at Annapolis. He stood the preliminary examination all right and is now in San Francisco en route to the naval academy.

Now the question of the reception at Annapolis of a boy of off color is to come up again.

The question of the kind of reception natives of Porto Rico are to receive at Annapolis has been postponed for a few more months by the failure of all candidates from the island thus far to pass the examination.

The color question will come up in the army in another way before long. Well up in the list of captains is Charles Young, colored.

He was born in Kentucky and was appointed to West Point from Ohio. In time he will be promoted to colonel, and then he will be entitled to command a regiment.

There is no way the department could arrange matters so that Colonel Young would not be in charge of white officers, provided he is continued as a field officer. That is the situation that is dreaded by war department officials.

The feeling against having negroes in the military service is decidedly stronger in the navy than in the army.

It is a matter of record that while many negro youths have been designated for appointment to the naval academy very few have succeeded in passing the entrance examination.

History has yet to record the graduation from Annapolis of a colored cadet.

BICYCLE MAKES RACE WITH DEATH

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31.—Against death a bicycle run was made in St. Paul by Edward O'Donnell, a young man living at 57 Carroll street, and he came near losing the race.

While whittling with a sharp knife at his home, the blade slipped, penetrating his left leg, severing an artery. He was unable to stop the flow of blood and immediately sprang upon his bicycle and started for a doctor's office. Along the road he left a trail of blood, and every moment he grew weaker.

When he reached Carroll and Dale streets, he felt exhausted from his wheel and lay in the road nearly ten minutes before he was found.

He was taken to Dr. Kistler's office at University and Dale streets, and rescued just in time to save his life.

Prepares For War.

Tien-Tsin, July 31.—The Viceroy of the Province of Chi Li had a series of military councils, it is said, to decide upon the policy in the event Russia should demand China's assistance against Japan. It is reported that Russian enlistment of Chinese in Manchuria is in progress.

Mr. Dolan has decided to bring the case to the attention of the next federal grand jury which meets in December.

“MOTHER” JONES

Laboring in Cause of Factory Children Denied An Audience—Says If Colored the President Would Have Received Her.

New York, July 31.—Filled with indignation at President Roosevelt's refusal to see her at Oyster Bay, "Mother" Jones in wrath, criticizes the chief executive's action and promises, if her future attempts to see him are unsuccessful, to tell the world.

"Mother" Jones' eyes fairly snapped when she recalled the fact that wealthy colored people easily gained admission to Mr. Roosevelt, while she, laboring in the cause of factory children, was denied an audience.

"Yes, I was at Oyster Bay, and the President did not receive me," she said to your correspondent. "But if I were black I might have been admitted. If I was Booker Washington, or Mrs. B. Washington, or any of the little Bookers, I would have been admitted."

"I am reasonably certain that Mr. Roosevelt was there, and personally did not particularly want to see him, but I did not desire to secure his attention for the child labor of this country. I wanted him to see these children I have with me or their photographs."

"Little B. Washingtons and their like, who are really forced to get up at 9 o'clock in the morning and to go with their governesses to school, are so much better than the poor, scrawny factory children, who drag themselves out of their unwholesome attics at 5 o'clock in the morning, and with a minimum of food go to the factory to work until 6 o'clock at night, that the latter must go away from the presence of the Great Father uncheered and unnoticed, while the former, or at least their progenitors, can sit up in state."

"If Mr. Roosevelt will not turn his eyes to the question of child labor, I will tell on him in Europe. I will tell on him in America, everywhere I go. Is it because of a feeling of personal affront? No, decidedly not. An official as busy as the President has the right to turn away an individual. But he has no right to refuse to see one with a national question at heart. No matter if my color is white, no matter if I am a gray-haired old woman, no matter if I am not rich, I have the interests of the poor little ones who drag out their miserable lives in factories near to my soul, and when I go to see the President of the United States he should grant me an audience."

MRS. MARY ("MOTHER") JONES.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR OHIO GUARD

Washington, July 31.—General Chas. Dick, commander of the Ohio National Guard, has made arrangements with the war department for the distribution of a large quantity of additional equipment for the Buckeye militia, in accordance with recent acts of Congress.

The Guard will be provided with 2006 Krag-Jorgensen rifles, which, with 2000 already furnished, will complete the equipment of all the infantrymen. A battery of three and two-tenths inch field artillery will be sent to the Toledo battery. Surgeons' supplies will be furnished.

In addition to all this, $25,000 in cash will be paid over to pay part of the expenses of the forthcoming encampment at Newark. Altogether $125,000 will be available. Prominent officials of the war department and army officers will be invited to attend camp.

He also said that one Ohio regiment of the militia would go to West Point, Ky., in October, to take part in the joint maneuvers which will be held under the auspices of the general government. This regiment will be selected after the state encampment and will be the one with the best record.

ELECTION OF NEW POPE.

Rome, July 31.—It is stated that the final development in the campaign for the election of a new Pope was practically the consolidating of the foreign cardinals under the leadership of Cardinals Gibbons and Koppat who oppose the election of any cardinal who belongs to the Roman Curia. It now seems more probable than ever that the candidate elected will be a compromise, probably one of the cardinals from the Italian provinces. The latest mentioned in this connection is Cardinal Bailetti, archbishop of Verona.

Rome, July 31.—The conclave which will elect a successor to Pope Leo XIII. began today.

The Cardinals this morning entered the Vatican for the last time preparatory to their voluntary imprisonment until the new pope is elected.

The first ceremony of the conclave proper was mass of the Holy Ghost, celebrated in Pauline chapel by Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the sacred college. This was followed by Monsignor Sardi who pronounced the sermon "Pro eligendo Pontifice," in which he exhorted members of the college of Cardinals to make a prompt and holy election, choosing from among them the most worthy and sublime dignity as Christ's vicar on earth.

After the sermon the Sistine choir sang, "Veni Creator" and this in turn was followed by conclave traversing in procession the royal path. The cardinals entered the Sistine chapel where the rules regulating conclaves were read and the oaths of secrecy administered. These preliminaries having been finished, Prince Chini, hereditary marshal of the conclave, introduced the process of clearing the Vatican of all except those permitted to enter the conclave while the Cardinal Camerlengo, with three other cardinals inspected the doors and windows to see that all was secure. Finally when all was found in order Cardinal Oreglia locked the last door upon the inside, while Prince Chini locked it on the outside and stationed himself there to prevent the approach of all unauthorized persons. The session this evening will be spent in formal discussion. Tomorrow morning the first ballot for the new pope will be taken.

The killing of Massey resulted in the recent riots at Evansville in which a number of people were killed.

A MONSTER HORSE.

(Holmes Co. Farmer.)

An article has been going the rounds of the daily papers regarding a big horse owned by Henry D. Snyder, who bought the animal a few months ago and has had him at his farm near Benton. Mr. Snyder got the horse in Morrow county. A few days ago he sold him to Gamble & Crooks of Cleveland who brought him here and shipped him to the Forest city Monday evening. The horse is a dark chestnut sorrel and will be 4 years old in September. He is 20 hands high, in moderate flesh and weighed on Monday 2347 pounds. His girth is 9 feet 6 inches and the circumference of his front hoof is 2 feet 6 inches. He is well proportioned and is simply a mountain of horseflesh. The purchasers will exhibit him over the country and inform us that they will call him "Henry D. Snyder." He is no doubt the biggest horse in the state and probably in the country.

The curious thing about it is that the coin bears date of 1829, and although it had probably lain where it was found for many years, it is bright and but little worn.

THE RAILWAYS

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TO BUILD NEW SHOPS.

Yellow is Good Enough Color for the Big Four Officials—Falling Off Shown—Railway News.

Louisville, Ky., July 31.—The Evening Post says: "The Illinois Central has secured an option on 80 acres of ground just outside of the southern part of the city, and it has been definitely intimated to the city officials that the building of large shops is under consideration. 'Certain concessions are necessary, and if these can be secured it is reasonably certain that the option will be closed and the shops built. 'Agents for the road have been inquiring into labor conditions in Louisville, and the report they make was extremely satisfactory to the management of the road. 'In Chicago disputes between labor and capital are so frequent that all the large corporations lose every year thousands of dollars from this cause. 'This question is said to enter largely into the consideration, in addition to the fact that shops to supply the demands of the territory south of the Ohio are needed.'"

Yellow Good Enough.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—"Yellow" is good enough in the color line for the officials of the Big Four system. A report has been going the rounds of the railroad columns of many papers during the last week that the road would soon paint its coaches to conform with the color of the Pullmans, but William Garstang, superintendent of motive power, says the Big Four yellow is entirely satisfactory and will not be abandoned. According to Mr. Garstang the color of the Big Four cars is "cadmium orange." The painter who first mixed it to the satisfaction of President Ingalls and other officials of the system held the position for years at the Blightwood shops here, but he died recently in California, where the company sent him in hopes he would recover his health. It was though the secret of preparing the peculiar yellow might have died with him.

JUDGE THOMSON

Of Jacksonville, Ill., Commended by Bryan as Presidential Candidate.

Lincoln, Neb., July 31—The forthcoming issue of Mr. Bryan's Commoner will say: "In the discussion among Democrats of possible candidates for the Presidential nomination in 1904, the availability of Judge Owen P. Thompson, of Jacksonville, Ill., is worthy of consideration. While he has always taken an active interest in public affairs, and has been an earnest advocate of Democratic principles, he has neither sought for nor held public offices outside of the line of his profession."

The article concludes with an extended tribute to Judge Thompson, contributed by a friend. In another and separate editorial paragraph the Commoner says: "In view of this kindly assistance it would seem that the Republican party bosses might select a candidate for vice president from among the 'Gold Democrats.'"

NEW

System of Wireless Telegraphy Upon Which a Patent is Asked by the Inventor.

Milwaukee, Wis. July 31—A new system of wireless telegraphy which it is declared by the inventor will revolutionize this latest application of the electric current, was put to a successful long distance test on Lake Michigan Thursday.

While Mrs. Emily Piggott, mother of the youthful inventor, ticked prearranged messages from her home in Chicago, the son, G. S. Piggott, who has applied for a patent on his invention, stood with his father, S. Piggott, on the main deck of the whaleback, Christopher Columbus, and received the messages ticked out by his mother's hand. There is no pole at either receiving or the sending station. An intensifier makes the poles unnecessary. A special code of telegraphy is used. A patent on the invention was applied for by the inventor on June 19 and numerous tests have been made, all of which have been successful.

WON'T HURT TRUSTS BEFORE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

The very conservative Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce states an important fact in a nonchalant way, as if oblivious of its political bearing and of its illustrating the plan of postponing questions affecting the welfare of the people until after the presidential election. He writes of the herculean task Secretary Cortelyou, of the new department of commerce, encounters, and the systematization of his office Chief Garfield, of the bureau of corporations, is effecting. But he naively adds that the work is so extensive that Mr. Garfield will not attempt to exercise its powers toward corporations until after the excitement of next year's campaign. Thus vanishes in thin air that much boasted law of publicity regarding trusts and corporations. In the President's discretion corporations were to tell all about their management and resources, and again in the discretion of the President this collected information was to be made public. But now it is tentatively announced that nothing will be done to irritate the trusts until next year. Courage is oozing out at the finger tips of Candidate Roosevelt.

PLENTY OF TROUBLE ON HAND.

(Enquirer.)
President Roosevelt has so much "unfinished business" on hand that some time may elapse before he becomes associated with another sensation with which to thrill the country. Our control of the Pacific ocean, which is a very large body with many islands in it, is by no means complete or undisputed. It is not settled that Russia will "mosey" out of Manchuria, or the much talked of "open door" will not be slammed in our face. We are still sending many live soldiers to the Philippine islands and bringing back a large percentage of them dead. It is also manifest from the statistics that the trade of the islands in fifty or one hundred years will not be sufficient to pay back the enormous cost of acquiring them. Reciprocity with Cuba is no nearer realization than it was a year or eighteen months ago. All the flutter among the "great ones" about financial legislation by Congress has not produced a single intelligent and conclusive plan, so far as the public is concerned. The tariff is acknowledged on nearly all hands to be in dire need of radical revision, but the President cannot recommend it, for fear of the effect on the men who are depended on to keep the High Protection party in power, and naturally the President does not know what to do about it. Nothing seems to be really afoot except dependence on luck and the merciful continuance of bountiful crops. And there are a great many other things to think about.

FEARLESS IN THE PULPIT.
Noted English Preacher Who Defied the British Government.
Rev. Reginald John Campbell, pastor of the City Temple, London, who is now traveling in this country, is the foremost preacher in England outside of the Established church, and at the age of thirty-seven has come to be regarded as the leader of the nonconformists.
Although chosen only a year ago to succeed Dr. Parker in the City Temple, which is one of the leading nonconformist churches in all England, the young preacher has won his way to the front rank of popularity, giving promise of a reputation which will rival that of his predecessor and of that other great nonconformist leader, Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon.

He recently attracted wide attention in England by the pronounced stand he took on the education act. He supports the policy of refusing to pay the new church rate levied under the act, and nearly all the great nonconformist bodies of England are joining in this defiance of the government.
Although educated for the Episcopal ministry, Mr. Campbell turned instead to the Congregational church, his first pastorate, at Brighton, being eminently successful. After eight years of work he saw the old church outgrown and a new one built in a more prominent locality, where crowds came to worship. Since he has been preaching in the City Temple immense crowds have thronged to hear him, his regular congregation numbering over 3,500.
Shortly after the death of the famous Joseph Parker, Mr. Campbell, who is tall, graceful and of striking appearance, with prematurely gray hair, was asked to occupy the City Temple for one Sunday. No sooner had the ultra critical congregation heard him than he received a call, which he accepted, and soon began his London career. The City Temple congregation considers him a more eloquent orator than his predecessor.

been the first woman to appear on Newport's fashionable drive tooling a four-in-hand.
Mrs. Burke-Roche is one of the most popular women in the exclusive circles of Newport and New York. She is the daughter of Frank Work, for many years a prominent broker and turfman. Some years ago she married the Hon. James Burke-Roche, a son of Lord Fermoy of Ireland. The marriage was unhappy, however, and after a few years the couple separated. HISTORY OF THE VATICAN
Famous Residence of the Pope and His Court.
VAST PALACE OF MANY ROOMS.
Designed to Be the Greatest Christian Structure of Its Kind, It Covers an Area of About Thirteen Acres and Has Eight Grand Staircases—The Pope Has Only Three Rooms, Furnished Very Simply.
Four centuries and a half have passed since it came into the mind of Pope Nicholas V. to make the Vatican the largest and most beautiful palace of the Christian world, says the New York Herald. He planned to include within its walls all the offices of the papal government. Every cardinal was to be housed within its precincts. But little was accomplished by this pope toward the fulfillment of his purpose. All that he saw finished was the Tower of Borgia and a private chapel.
Nearly every succeeding pope has added something to the building of the Vatican until it has become an immense pile of irregular architecture descriptive of the successive pontificates and telling of the individual characters and tastes of the various popes who inhabited the palace long enough to leave some impression of their own. After the popes retired from Avignon they found their former residence on the Lateran hill in ruins and adopted the Vatican in its stead in order to obtain the greater security given by the Castle of St. Angelo, close at hand, a covered gallery connecting the palace and the fortress along the north line of the Leonine wall.
Alexander VI. constructed what is known as the old palace, called the Appartamento Borgia, and to this part Sixtus IV. added in 1474 the Sixtine chapel. The Belvedere was erected by Innocent VIII. in 1490, and Julius II. united the Belvedere to the palace by the celebrated loggia. To Julius II. the Vatican is indebted for the beginning of the museum, and its foundations were laid in the gardens of the Belvedere under his initiation. After his death Leo X. completed the loggia, employing Raphael to direct the work.
By 1600 the section of the palace was completed which includes the ordinary residence of the pope. It is the most conspicuous portion of the mass of buildings rising above the piazza of St. Peter. The loggia were inclosed in glass by Pius IX., thus protecting from the weather the frescoes of Raphael, and in the course of his long reign he made many improvements in the picture galleries.
The special work by which Leo XIII. left his mark on the Vatican was the decoration of the Gallery of Candelabra with frescoes by Seitz, with a pavement of precious marbles and antique statuary from recent excavations, while he built a reading room for students in the Vatican library and a new wing for printed books, further conferring an immense boon on foreign students by throwing open the Vatican archives and providing them with accommodation.
The celebrated staircase, the Scala Regia, was constructed by Bernini under Urban VIII. Subsequent popes built the range of apartments for the Museo Pio Clementino and the Egyptian and Etruscan museums. The fourth side of the Cortile di San Damaso was closed by Pius IX., who reconstructed the great staircase leading from the arcades of the piazza into the court.
Altogether the Vatican palace covers an area of about thirteen and one-half acres, of which about six are occupied by the twenty courts, and contains perhaps a thousand halls, chapels, saloons and private apartments, the greater part of which are occupied by collections and showrooms, a comparatively small part of the building being set apart for the papal court.
The length of the palace is 1,151 feet and its breadth 767. It has eight grand staircases. The principal entrance to the Vatican is at the end of the right colonnade of St. Peter's, where a door on the right opens upon the staircase leading to the Cortile di Damaso. The famous Sixtine chapel, which figures so prominently in connection with a pope's death and the election of his successor, was formerly hung on festivals with the tapestries executed from the cartoons of Raphael. The upper portion is decorated in fresco by the great Florentine masters of the fifteenth century. On the pillar between the windows are the figures of twenty-eight popes by Sandro Botticelli. The vast fresco of "The Last Judgment" occupied Michael Angelo seven years and was finished in 1541 under Paul III.
Only those strangers admitted to a special audience ever see the small portion of the Vatican inhabited by the pope. The three rooms occupied by the pontiff are furnished with the utmost simplicity. They consist of the bare green saloon, the red saloon, containing a throne flanked by benches, and the bedroom, with yellow draperies, a large writing table and a few pictures by old masters.
From the windows of the Egyptian museum one can look down upon the inner garden of the Vatican known as the Giardino della Pigna, from the famous Pigna, a gigantic fur cone, said once to have crowned the summit of the mausoleum of Hadrian.
The garden was the second great quadrangle of the Vatican, planted with shrubs and flowers under Pius IX., but has been neglected for many years. From the outer courtyard one enters the larger garden, but as this was constantly used by the pope admittance was gained to it only as a matter of the rarest privilege. Pope Pius IX. used to ride here on his white mule.

ASCENT OF MOUNT RAINIER
Dr. Betts and H. M. Sarvant Prove Mountain Still Surmountable.
Dr. W. R. Betts of New Orleans and H. M. Sarvant of Tacoma, Wash., have made a thrilling ascent of Mount Rainier, says the New York Times. Dr. Betts read in newspapers that the mountain had not been ascended for four years on account of great breaks in the ice walls about Gibraltar rock. Old guides had gone to Gibraltar rock for several seasons past only to turn back without reaching the top.
Dr. Betts was determined to disprove the theory that the mountain is insurmountable. Reaching Tacoma a few days ago, he started at once for Paradise valley, on the southern slope. Descending from Pinnacle peak of the Tatoosh range, both men took a perilous slide of half a mile down steep snow fields. After previously carrying food to Camp Muir the climbers started on a Sunday evening to make the ascent. They camped at Muir until daybreak, but the weather was bitterly cold, making sleep impossible. At 3 a. m. they discarded all unnecessary clothing, taking only alpine stocks and cameras, and started.
Reaching the glaciers about Gibraltar, they were compelled to use ropes and to cut 500 steps in the ice with a hatchet in making a zigzag journey up ice slopes and around crevasses. They found that avalanches had carried away a great rocky ledge above Gibraltar on which previous climbers had depended in ascending one of the steepest places. The summit was reached at 11 a. m. They visited three peaks. Investigation showed that there had been no recent volcanic activity, as was supposed, though steam and sulphur fumes still rise in the craters.
They reached Paradise valley at 8 o'clock the next night, twenty-five hours after commencing the ascent.

THE CRACK KEARSARGE.
Dimensions of the Record Breaking Battle Ship.
The Kearsarge, which has broken all records for speed of battle ships sustained for long distances and which won the admiration of Emperor William of Germany and the Prince of Wales and several admirals in England, was launched from the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, Newport News, Va., at 10:02 a. m., March 24, 1898, and at 11:32 her sister ship, the Kentucky, glided into the James river, says the New York Tribune. The dimensions of the two vessels are identical—water line length, 368 feet; beam, 72 feet 2 1/2 inches; draft, 23 feet 5 inches; freeboard, forward, 14 feet 3 inches; freeboard, aft, 3 inches; displacement, 11,525 tons.
The speed requirements were 16 knots. On her preliminary trial the Kearsarge made 17 1/2 knots, and the Kentucky on her trial the same. Some doubt exists as to which ship is the faster. The Kearsarge ranks as one of the most formidable fighting ships in the world. She is armed with four 13 inch and eight 4 inch breechloading rifles and fourteen 5 inch rapid firing guns. There are twenty 6 pounders, six 1 pounders, four Colt rapid fire boat guns and four 18 inch torpedo tubes.

WORLD'S FAIR GATEWAY.
It Will Be Three Hundred Feet Long and Seventy Feet High.
Chief Designer Masqueray is engaged on plans for the main gateway to the Louisiana Purchase exposition, to be held in St. Louis, which will be at the north end of the grand court. The structure will be 70 feet high, 300 feet long and 60 feet wide, says the New York Tribune. It will be in the shape of a capital U, with the open side toward the Cascade gardens, at the opposite end of the court. The center of the U will be a double colonnade of Doric columns, coupled and surmounted by a monumental architrave and attic. Visitors to the fair will pass between the columns to enter the court.
The wings of the structure will be given up to toilet, restaurant and other conveniences. These wings will be two stories high, and on both floors there will be concessions. The gate will cost between $30,000 and $50,000.
The ladder of fame has a provoking tendency to tip over backward.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE
Thus said one of the greatest physicians of modern times. If the blood is pure, then the individual is strong and healthy. If the blood is impure, then there is sickness and decay in the whole system. The duty of the Kidneys is to filter the blood, which circulates through them for that purpose, cleansing it from all impurities, worn-out matter and uric acid, collected in its journey from the heart through the system. To purify the blood we must first be sure that the Kidneys are in order. We cannot get pure water from a foul filter, neither can we get pure rich blood from diseased Kidneys. If the Kidneys are out of order, they cannot filter the impurities and uric acid from the blood, resulting in Rheumatism, gout, pain in the back, urinary troubles and kindred diseases. IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS cure Rheumatism to stay cured, by removing the cause. They put the Kidneys in a healthy condition, enabling them to discharge the blood to the heart pure and healthful, with all uric acid, the presence of which in the blood is the cause of Rheumatism and all other blood diseases, eliminated. Mr. John Knowlton's experience, which he relates in a recent letter, is just the same as many others who have written in thankfulness for their cure. Mr. Knowlton says:
"As a sufferer from chronic Rheumatism for nearly twenty years, I think I may safely say that I have tried almost a hundred remedies; old women's recipes, physicians' prescriptions and patent medicines. Many of them relieved me for a time, but the first slight cold brought back the Rheumatism. One day I picked up a circular of Irving's Buchu Wafers and started to read it. I was not much interested at first, but when I began to read how the kidneys were responsible for Rheumatism, I began to pay attention and the common sense statements made such an impression that I immediately bought a box. Well, I took the whole box and had no Rheumatism for a month, but a slight cold brought it back, but not so bad as previously. This encouraged me, and I bought six boxes. I took them all faithfully, and it is now nine months since I had a twinge of the Rheumatism, so that I feel that I am really cured. After the experience that I had with other so-called remedies for Rheumatism, you will understand how glad I am to be able to testify to the merits of Irving's Buchu Wafers. They certainly did all that is claimed for them in my case."

IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS are nature's own remedy for the cure of Bright's Disease, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bladder troubles, Dropsical Swellings, Gout, Gravel, Jaundice, Diabetes, Female Complaints and Irregularities, and are a positive cure for all Diseases and Blood Impurities which are directly or indirectly traceable to deranged action of the Kidneys. They are pleasant to the taste, being sugar coated, and are prepared by the Irving Drug Co., Philadelphia. Price, fifty cents. There are many imitations of the IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS on the market, but do not be satisfied with anything but the genuine.

A Horrid Trick!
A driving party that took supper at the Hotel Vance Sunday evening was composed of Messrs. R. S. Wyeth and Ed. Miller of Newark, Scott Wilson and S. P. Brown of Lancaster. Miss McCune, Miss Julia McCune, and the Misses Ulrick. The Misses Ulrick are twins, handsome and as near alike as two peas. While here they attempted a trick upon their escorts, which proved successful. They exchanged hats, the only feature of dress in which they differed greatly, and each got into the rig of the other's escort. When they drove out of town the deception in identities had not been discovered by the gentlemen, and later returns have not been received here.—Utica Herald.

GAS FIELD

MORE FIGURING ON SIZE OF THE LOCAL FIELD.

Workmen for New Utica Glass Factory Are Expected in a Few Days —Utica Notes.

Utica, O., July 31.—To define the test and proven gas field, get a good map of Central Ohio, says the Herald man. Begin a pencil line at the Vance well at the southwestern line of Utica village; draw it thence to the Wallace, Conard, McKnight and Stinson wells southwest; thence to the Bruce, Fry and other good wells in the southwestern corner of Burlington township, thence northwest through the Amos Watson and on to the good infirmity well near Bangs; thence to King Solomon two miles west of Brandon; thence northeast to the Bobout, then south to the Culp and from that point southwest to the place of beginning. You will then have inclosed a territory of 110 square miles, or 70,400 acres, every acre of which is within the limit of wells making two millions per day each, and with Utica as absolutely the only railroad station within the enclosure. Absolutely no tests have been made southeast of Utica, but if the field is good as far in that direction as southwest, or northwest, or northeast, then Utica is located as near the center of the field as if drawn for that purpose. That is, the proven good territory extends from Utica seven miles southwest, seven miles northwest, and seven miles northeast, with the southeast not yet defined. The northeast limit has not been found, either, as the most northeasterly well is above the average.

The Utica company directors Tuesday night resolved to drill another well, but the choice of the location was deferred a few days. At present the Sperry well supplies Coshocton, the Alsford well takes care of Utica, and the smoots and Gourley wells are held in reserve. Wells will be sunk as fast as the market for their product is safely in sight.

President McKittick of the Glass company spent a part of Tuesday in town, with two contractors who wish to bid on certain construction work, and desired to first see the situation. Bids are to be received for the work Saturday at a meeting of directors in Indiana. Some of the workmen expect to move here next week.

The final arrangements with the Utica Glass company is that the factory is to have a five-acre strip clear across the south part of the Gourley lot, leaving the surplus for Mr. Sperry all on the north, instead of north and east as at first suggested.

A representative of a pottery company that is seeking a location has an appointment to meet with the Utica Gas company and Board of Trade today. The concern will employ from 150 to 175 persons.

Two glass factories in addition to those heretofore mentioned have indicated a desire to get a location at Utica.

DAVID BELT

Brother of Calvin Belt is Dead—Wheat Yields in Vicinity of Utica—A Family Reunion.

Utica, O., July 31.—Word has been received of the death of David Belt of Kingsfisher, Oklahoma, a few days ago Mr. Belt was a brother of Calvin Belt of this place. He was long a resident of Utica, but removed west more than twenty years ago.

Some of the wheat yields reported in this neighborhood are 37 bushels per acre at George Reed's, 30 bushel at Belle Bell's and 35 bushels at Samuel Patton's. Over near Democracy Rev Huntsberger reports 378 bushels from nine acres, an average of 42 bushels per acre.

Mrs. Cordelia McDevitt, relict of the late Henry McDevitt, died Saturday at the age of 70 years. The funeral was held at Brandon on Monday. The deceased was the only sister of Mrs. John Roberts.

The Hays and Bell families will hold their annual reunion at the Bell church on Saturday, August 15.

IN SUPREME COURT.

Columbus, O., July 31.—The Supreme Court is becoming glutted with small cases that were not able to get before the highest tribunal of the state until the Legislature at the special session repealed the law fixing the minimum sum involved at $300. Since it is possible to take any old case to the Supreme Court now that there is no limit as to the amount involved, scores of actions that should not get beyond the justices' courts are carried to the highest tribunal. The action of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company against Ira S. Herrick has been filed. Herrick sued for $84 for rent claimed to be due for a store room at Delphos and recovered judgment. The Brunswick Company now asks the Supreme Court to reverse the finding. The costs to the litigants already overreaches the sum involved.

Son of Former B. & O. Engineer James Larkin of This City Meets Accidental Death.

B. & O. Engineer W. F. Stoner, of this city has received word from Salt Lake City, Utah, that Roy, the fourteen year old son of Mr. James Larkin a former well known B. & O. engineer who lived in Newark, had been drowned a few days ago while bathing in Salt Lake. The boy had gone into the water with a son of Minor P. Wells, a brother of Col. W. C. Wells, who formerly resided in this city, and a young lady. He was suddenly taken with cramps and drowned. At latest accounts his body had not been recovered.

TO KILL SHEEP DOGS.

Zanesville, O., July 31.—Farmers of Adamsville and vicinity have organized a posse to kill sheep-killing dogs. It is learned that scores of sheep have been killed by mongrels during the last week. William R. Doughty lost 28 sheep in one night from dogs and four were killed for William Bell on the same night.

THEY RAN OFF.

Zanesville, O., July 31.—Miss Grace Meyers and John Herbert Brown, younger members of the exclusive social set, who have apparently been sweethearts for some time, fooled their friends and went to Columbus and were married at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. John H. Hewitt at the rectory of the St. Paul Episcopal church. They returned here yesterday. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Brown and his father is general superintendent of the Brown Manufacturing company, the largest industrial plant in the city.

AGED 84 BUT ELOPED.

Coshocton, O., July 31.—The filing of the report of Isaac Lockard, guardian of Isabel Draper, has brought to light a romance. The ward, Mrs. Draper, is 84 years old, and an imbecile in the eyes of the law. A few days ago when her guardian was attempting to exercise his authority the damsel of four score years coyly eloped with Abram Dittinger, aged 70. They were married and have returned to claim her estate valued at $10,000. The matter will be aired in the courts.

OPERA

TO FOLLOW ENGAGEMENT OF CHICAGO STOCK CO.

Manager W. D. Harris of Idlewild Park Makes the Announcement—Big Crowd Last Night.

Manager Will D. Harris will announce in a short time, the name of the company and the list of operas which he has secured for his season of opera which will be put on at Idlewild after the engagement of the Chicago Stock company closes.

The idea of Newark having a season of the best opera will come as an agreeable surprise to every one. It is a new venture, and an expensive one, but we believe that as in the past Mr. Harris' managerial foresight will be vindicated and that this kind of entertainment will pack the casino.

The operas to be given include Fran Diavalo, The Fortune Teller, at least one of De Koven's, and others of equally high class.

The seating capacity of Idlewild park casino was taxed to the utmost on Thursday night by an audience which had been attracted by the announcement that the Chicago Stock company would give the first of the presentations of Mr. Barrie's "Little Minister" which will continue the rest of this week.

The dramatic version as presented by the Chicago Stock company is considerably different from any that has been seen in Newark, but is exactly that which was originally presented for a long consecutive run in New York City. The story which has been dramatized, is well known to every reader of up to date fiction, and they will readily see that the play as put on at Idlewild, follows the author as nearly as may be.

It is pre-eminently a play in which two actors take the center of the stage and all the action centers about them. Last night one of these parts, the name role, was assigned to Frank Townsend and the audience throughout demonstrated that his rendition was satisfactory in all details.

Lady Babbie was of course, taken by Mrs. Clara Price Dorente, and the clever little woman, scored a big hit. Her acting of the gypsy maiden represented all the coyness, warm hearted sympathy and love of freedom and independence with which Barrie clothes his heroine. Her change of dialect from the broad Scotch Highland to the correct current English of the period was also most creditable.

As a wild, rough Scotch peasant, Frank De Vernon was at his best. His dialect throughout the piece was correctly broad, yet at all times intelligible, while his acting during the evening was just right. De Vernon was really a star Thursday night and his work throughout was artistic.

Miss Fairchild as Nanny Webster was the only woman who had much to do in the piece, and she did it well.

Mr. Dorente Mr. Hayes, Mr. Lewis, and the other members of the company all acquitted themselves with credit, and aided greatly in making the presentation a success.

No man or woman in the state will hesitate to speak well of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after once trying them. They always produce a pleasant movement of the bowels, improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. For sale by all druggists.

DEATH OF EDWARD FLOYD.

Edward Floyd, familiarly known as "Kid" Floyd, a well known B. & O. engineer, died at his home, 399 Barclay street, Thursday afternoon after an illness of some time with dropsy, aggravated by a complication of other diseases. The deceased was aged about 36 years and was a man who was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He leaves a wife, one son and two daughters, besides an aged mother, Mrs. Jacob Shrader, of Avondale, and two sisters, Mrs. James Ditter of this city, and Mrs. Belle Torrens near Cleveland, to mourn his death. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

A NURSERY IN TIBET.

Rock-a-by-babyism in the Forests of This Obscure Country.

Our first meeting with the Sifans presented many ludicrous features. We were plunging through the gloom of the forest when our ears were assailed with a concourse of yells which echoed through the supernatural silence with ghostly weirdness. In this forbidding wilderness we had not looked for signs of human habitation, so hastily arranging ourselves in position, we prepared ourselves for what seemed an inevitable hostile attack. Long and anxiously we awaited the onslaught of our supposed hidden assailants, when again the peace disturbing sound echoed at most, it seemed, over our very heads. Glancing upward, the mystery was soon explained, for in the lower branches of the tree we could descry numerous small bundles, each too large for an eye and too small for a windfall.

Both my Klingist and Gharikanese escort, with their superstitious natures roused by these ghostlike sounds, visibly paled beneath their dusky skins and gazed furtively round in order to seek means of escape from this enchanted spot. Even I was not little puzzled and awed until, peering more closely, I became aware of the fact that the disturbing elements which had caused us so much concern arose from the fact that we had unwittingly stumbled upon an aboriginal nursery and that the weird and ghostlike sounds emanated from several hungry and lusty lunged infants. Then the solemn stillness was broken by our hearty laughter, the Sifans and Gharikanese, as if to make amends for their credulous fears, making the woods ring with their forced guffaws. The Sifan Tibetans, as we subsequently learned, place their children in skin cradles and hang these from the trees in the forests, the first from a belief that they will be instructed by the deities, the second that their full existence may not be endangered by the abominable filth and squalor of the settled regions. Several times in the day they are visited by their mothers, who provide them with food and remain with them during the night, and in the forest home the child remains until it is two or three years old and has grown strong and healthy enough to stand the rigors of hardship and disease.—W. C. Jameson Reid in Collier's Weekly.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

High and gravelly soil is the best for fruit trees.

Mildew is the worst enemy of the gooseberry. Pruning is the best remedy.

Rosin and tallow in equal parts is an excellent covering for wounds in fruit and other trees.

To cultivate among trees use a whiffletree as short as the horse can walk with. Turn the looks in.

The weeds must be kept down around the small fruit trees and vines if the fruit is to mature and ripen rightly.

Look over the orchard occasionally to see that no suckers are growing from the roots of the trees to sap the strength from the main tree.

Plants in windows should be turned once or twice a week. A fine form, which is half the beauty of a plant, cannot be attained without this.

Wood ashes not only help to keep borers from the roots of trees, but the trees make a healthier and more vigorous growth and bear much sounder fruit when they are used.

Victoria and Napoleon.

Queen Victoria once gave a remarkable description of her visit to the tomb of Napoleon I. during the reign of Napoleon III. "The coffin is not yet here," she wrote, "but in a small side chapel of St. Jerome. Into this the emperor led me, and there I stood at the arm of Napoleon III. his nephew, before the coffin of England's bitterest foe, I, the granddaughter of that king who hated him most and who most vigorously opposed him and this very nephew, who bears his name, being my nearest and dearest ally! The organ of the church was playing 'God Save the Queen' at the time, and this solemn scene took place by torchlight and during a thunderstorm. Strange and wonderful indeed!"

Willing, but Not Anxious.

Ministers sometimes observe some curious phases of human nature among persons soliciting their services in the performance of a marriage ceremony.

"Will you take this woman for your wedded wife?" asked a clergyman of a would be bridegroom.

"Yes; I'll take her," remarked the man in a half dejected tone. "but," he added, with surprising frankness, "I'd rather it were her sister."

Worm.

"I am but a worm!" I protested, being in a groveling, penitential mood.

"Oh, I think you're just nice enough to eat, actually!" cried the faithful little wife.

"That shows you're getting to be an old hen," whimpered I, more cast down than ever.—Detroit Free Press.

PLOT FRUSTRATED.

Danville, Va., July 31.—A plot to wreck the city jail was discovered and frustrated this morning.

BOLDLY

The Well-dressed Drummer Challenged by His Friend, Spoke in a Salvation Army Circle.

Cleveland, O., July 31.—M. H. Douglas, a Chicago traveling man accepted a unique challenge last night. With several other drummers he was listening to Salvation Army services near the Hollenden Hotel, when his companions dared him to step into the circle and offer his testimony. As an inducement they made up a purse of $5, which they agreed to toss upon the drum if he would do so. After Douglas had stood for a little joking and had been accused of having "rabbit blood," he called one of the soldiers aside, and after a whispered conversation the soldier stepped back into the circle and announced that a man in the crowd had asked permission to speak.

Douglas stepped forward, neatly dressed and with a big diamond in his cravat. The recruit pleaded guilty first of all to having never made a speech in public before, and explained his presence this time by telling of the banter of his friends. He said also that this was the first time he had ever stepped into the hallowed circle of the Salvation Army. He spoke highly of the army's work, and retired amid applause.

By that time the companions of Douglas had placed their $5 on the drum, and with that as a starter, several dollars were thrown in by the crowd.

UNDERTAKERS

Enjoined From Shipping the Body of the Wealthy Pennsylvanian.

Akron, O., July 31.—An injunction was granted by Probate Judge W. E. Pardee to restrain the Bitlow Undertaking company from removing the body of D. H. Wuller from Akron to Butler, Penn. Wuller died in a private sanitarium in Cuyahoga Falls. He was a druggist in Butler. He was said to be worth $100,000. The undertakers were on the way to the depot to ship the body when the injunction was served.

The applicant for the injunction was Charles J. Wuller, a son, who says he was a guardian of his father and that he was refused possession of the body. He alleged that his father had been of unsound mind. The son wished an autopsy to determine the condition of the brain. A brother and sister of Wuller declare that the son had been removed in Butler as guardian. On the point as to Wuller's sanity or insanity will depend the distribution of the estate by mutual agreement. The injunction was dissolved and the body shipped to Butler. There the autopsy will be held.

ON THE OTHER

Each Had the Drop, so Neither the Wife Nor the Husband Fired.

Washington, Ind., July 31.—Johnny Rumsey, instructor in the primary department of the West Walnut street public school, returned home from Terre Haute where he had attended a teachers' meeting, and, it is alleged, assaulted his wife, beating her over the head with the butt of a revolver, severely cutting her scalp.

When the police arrived they found the schoolteacher and his wife in opposite corners of the dining room, each with a revolver aimed at the other. He was arrested and jailed, but later his friends signed a bond for his release.

MERRYMAKERS

At a Silver Wedding Put to Route by Honey Bees.

Washington, Ind., July 31.—Honey bees came very near breaking up the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Walters Feagans' silver wedding. About 200 relatives and friends gathered at the Feagans farm house and just as the lancers and the musicians were putting in their best licks the bees made an attack. They came out of their hives by the hundreds and in a twinkling the crowd scattered, the music stopped and the movements of the dancers lost their grace. Many persons were stung.

POLICY

Of Irish Nationalists Outlined in Resolutions Adopted by the Clan-na-Gael at Chicago.

New York, July 31.—John T. Keating, of Chicago, formerly National President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, was given a reception by the Clan-na-Gael last night at Cooper Union. Mr. Keating, who arrived from Ireland today, delivered the address at the annual pilgrimage to the grave of the leader of the United Irishmen in 1793, Theobald Wolfe Tone, at Bodens-town, Ireland, on June 21, upon the invitation of the Nationalists of Ireland, and was attacked for the speech by the organization Parliamentary party, which declared that Mr. Keating did not speak as the representative of any one in America.

Tonight's meeting was intended as an answer to that charge, which was formally denied by the adoption of resolutions that contained also a declaration of policy for the organized Nationalists of the United States, as follows:

"Ireland's true interests will be best served by a steady, resolute and progressive policy of organization among her own people the world over, and the cultivation of alliances with England's enemies with a view to the eventual reconstruction and re-establishment of an Irish nation—the re-establishment of an Irish Republic—on the ruins of the British Empire.

"To that policy we pledge our hearty and continuous support, and as citizens of the United States we will oppose by every means in our power any and all forms of country and England, and every use of the power and influence of the American government in support of British policy or British interests in any part of the world."

CAUSE OF DEATH

Of Heavily Insured Man to be Probed at Union City, Tenn.

Union City, Tenn., July 31.—Today the body of Robert Emmett Walker, who died 18 days ago, was exhumed, and a chemical analysis will be made of the contents of the stomach. The work will be done by insurance agents, the wife of the deceased defraying part of the expenses. Walker arrived here one night, about 11 o'clock, on a visit to his wife, was taken suddenly ill and died before morning. There was $30,000 insurance on his life, equally divided between the National, the Fidelity Mutual, and the Royal Union. The insurance companies believe there was foul play, while many friends of Mrs. Walker and family, who are some of the best people in the state, believe her innocent.

LEADER OF CONVICTS

Said to Have Served With Filipino Guerrillas.

Placerville, Cal., July 31.—Although hundreds of heavily armed men are now engaged in the search for the 12 surviving prisoners who escaped from the Folsom penitentiary on Monday, the outlaws remain masters of the situation. They have succeeded in eluding their pursuers and the ultimate escape of at least some of the men seems highly probable.

J. W. Woods, the leader of the escaped convicts, is said by the prisoners here to have been a soldier in the Philippines and to have deserted from the Federal troops and joined the Filipinos.

CLIPPED

Flowing Tresses From Pretty Girl's Head When She Refused Tramp Food or Money.

Napoleon, O., July 31.—Miss Dora Zertanna, of Okolona, mourns the loss of her flowing locks. Shortly before noon, while she was in the kitchen preparing dinner, a well dressed young man entered, and gruffly demanded his dinner or 50 cents instead. When informed that he could have neither, he sprang forward and seized her by the throat. She was too badly frightened to scream, but she fought with her assailant desperately. He quickly removed her earrings, and then drawing a razor, sawed back and forth with it on her thick braid of hair until it was severed. Putting the weapon in one pocket and the hair in another he walked leisurely out of the door and disappeared.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail, free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. IN THE CLOUDS

French Officials Will Test the Capacity of Dumont's Balloon for War Purposes.

Paris, July 31.—Is the world within measurable distance of the time when battles will be fought up in the clouds as well as on land and beneath the surface of the sea?

It would seem so, at any rate, as M. Santos Dumont received a visit at his balloon sheds of a delegation representing General Andre, the French Minister of War, and a delegation composed of Major M. Hirschauer, Chief of the French Military Aeronautical Department, and Lieutenant Colonel Bourgeaux, who for two hours remained with M. Santos Dumont, examining his great balloon, trying the sixty-horsepower motor, starting and stopping the immense propeller and studying every detail of his airship with minute care and tireless patience.

The opinion expressed by the representatives of the Ministry of War was so unreservedly favorable that a practical test of a novel character—which, if successful, will be conclusive of the airship's military value—will take place very shortly.

The test will consist of an attempt to leave Paris and enter one of the French frontier towns, Nancy or Belfort, the same day by airship. Dumont's plan is to take a train from Paris in the early morning with his balloon, tubes of hydrogen gas to fill it, and all the machinery and instruments in a special wagon.

He estimates that within two hours from the time of leaving the train everything will be ready, and he will then make an attempt to fly over the town that may be selected for the experiment.

TALE

Of a Drunken Trout Proved Means of Reuniting John Franklin and His Sister.

New York, July 31.—Two weeks ago, there was sent out from Oyster Bay a newspaper report that a beer barrel in Captain John Franklin's refrigerating fish pond had sprung a leak, and that the 15 brook trout who for years had swam among the kegs had all become uproariously drunk. The story was published in Missouri. Yesterday Captain Franklin received the following letter from Mrs. Fred Nottrot of Brookfield, Mo.:

"Dear brother: I don't know whether I am writing to my brother or not, but will write anyway. I was sitting reading yesterday's paper, a sketch. I took it for granted it was about you. Please write me if it is true, my brother. I hardly know what to write, not knowing for certain it is my brother. So that you may know me I will tell you my name used to be Mrs. Harriet Southern, but I was married again. My father's name was John Franklin and my mother's name Harriet Franklin, and I know I have a brother John living somewhere."

"That's her," cried Captain Franklin when he finished reading the letter. He sent out for a special delivery stamp with which to answer it.

"We all lived in Illinois when the civil war broke out. I ran away and enlisted in the Federal army, and when the war closed I couldn't find any of my people. I came east and settled in Oyster Bay. About 12 years ago I saw a man poring molasses on corn cobs to burn in smoking lamps. I'd never seen any one except my father do that and when I stopped and talked to the man I found he was my father. I brought him to Oyster Bay to live with me. He committed suicide two years ago."

"Now that story about the trout getting drunk has found my sister. I never knew the trout got drunk, but I'm mighty glad the story said so, else I might never have found her. I've written her asking her to come on here. I'll bet she becomes mighty fond of the trout. They can certainly have anything I've got."

Fugitives Seen.

San Francisco, July 31.—The first definite trace of the Folsom escaped convicts since the Pilot Hill fight was obtained at 6 o'clock last night, when five fugitives were seen on Webber creek. A posse immediately surrounded them during the night and prepared for battle at daybreak. The militia and sheriff's posse disagreed and the militia threatened to desert the case. As evidence shows that the convicts have separated the militia claim they can do no good.

Lancaster Saturday and Sunday. The Lancaster team which is probably the strongest team in Ohio or at least as strong as any, will play a two game series with the Idlewilds at Idlewild park Saturday and Sunday. These teams when they last met broke even, each winning a game, and they are determined that this shall not be the case this time, and each will strain every effort to land both games.

The Fairfield county boys are playing great ball, and made a most favorable impression on the occasion of their last visit to Newark by their sportsmanlike demeanor as well as their ability to put up a fast and snappy game of baseball.

Wend, the sensational outfielder and heavy hitter, South the big first baseman, Frank Locke, one of the best infielders now playing in Ohio, Ted Pursell and the other stars will all be on hand to aid their team in downing the Idlewild team, their most dangerous rival for championship honors. The games will be played Saturday and Sunday.

Lancaster 1—Piqua 0. Lancaster, O., July 31.—The Lancaster team defeated the strong Piqua club here Thursday in the fastest game ever played on the local grounds. The fielding on both sides was marvelous, especially that of Wend for the locals and Biddell for the visitors. The only run scored in the game was by Heller in the first on a single, a stolen base and a sacrifice. The score: R H E. Lancaster 1 3 0. Piqua 0 6 0. Batteries—J. Locke and Mute; Derrick and Troy. Umpire, Jack McAllister. Time, 50 minutes.

Pedlow Finished Fifth. Pedlow, the fast pacer owned by Joe Booth, of Newark, finished fifth in the 2:18 pace at Bucyrus Thursday. Eight horses were in the race which required four heats for Allie Lace to win, the fastest heat being in 2:17 1/4. Pedlow finished 6, 5, 5, 2.

THE CROPS WHEAT HARVEST PRACTICALLY COMPLETED.

Yield is Better in North Than Elsewhere—Fairly Good Oat Crop Indicated. The following is the Ohio crop report for the week: The temperature average slightly below normal for the week, the first half being moderately cool and the last quite warm. Good showers occurred during the afternoon and night of the 21st and some light to moderate showers fell on the night of the 26th. A good many correspondents in the middle and southern sections report that the precipitation was insufficient in their localities and that corn, pastures and gardens are needing more rain.

The wheat harvest is practically completed and threshing is well advanced in the middle and south. The yield is proving much better in the north than in the middle and south. Oats are ripening; cutting has commenced in the south; some rust is reported from scattered localities; a fairly good crop is indicated. Barley is being cut in the northwest. Haymaking has progressed satisfactorily and over most of the state a good crop has been secured in good condition. Second-growth clover is doing very well. Early corn has made good growth and is in fairly good condition; it is reported as a little short; late corn is small and uneven. Early potatoes are good generally, but there is some complaint of blight on late potatoes. Gardens are doing fairly well and vegetables are plentiful. Tobacco is growing very well. Reports on apples are a little more favorable this week. Grapes continue promising. Blackberries are good in the middle and north, but dried up considerably in the south. Peaches are slight and plums and pears are a rather poor crop.

WEAK, IRREGULAR, PAINFUL HEARTS.

Sometimes the heart grows irregular—is the seat of pain and pressure. People are apt to think it is due to some organic or structural disease of that organ, when the cause is comparatively simple—a weakened motor power—a trouble wholly due to the nervous system, perhaps aggravated by a nervous dyspepsia. Put the nervous system right—give it strength and tone—supply through its medium the heart with power and the stomach with digestive juices and the trouble fades like snow in the summer sun. It is for this wonderful power Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are world famous.

Mr. J. W. Halliday of 479 North Fourth street, Newark, Ohio, says: "I was troubled with general nervousness and my heart gave me considerable trouble, it was weak and irregular in action. I was recommended to try Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills sold at C. T. Bricker's City Drug Store and they gave me the best of results—the nervous system became steady and strong and the heart action regular and easy and the system at large full of energy and vigor. I can recommend them to anyone as safe and certain." 50c a box at druggists or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase M. SOZODONT BOWSER'S DISCOVERY

He Tries an Experiment In Behalf of Natural History, and Succeeds—So He Imagines. (Copyright, 1903 by C. B. Lewis.) M. BOWSER had been home for a couple of hours and eaten his dinner and smoked his cigar without bringing forward anything to startle Mrs. Bowser when the basement bell rang, and the cook brought up a covered basket left by a boy.

"You surely haven't been getting another cat or rabbit?" queried Mrs. Bowser as she turned a shade paler. "Well, hardly," he replied. "Before showing you the contents of this basket I wish to talk with you a minute. You know I belong to a natural history club?" "Yes, I know, and you went out into the country once to see if cows slept standing up. "What? What's that? I never did such a thing, and you know it!" "Then it was to see if possums went to sleep with their tails curled over a limb. I know you were gone all night and came home all tired out."

"Never, woman, never! Do you take me for a born fool? I was going to tell you what I had in the basket and explain an experiment I was going to make in behalf of natural history, but now I'll be hanged if I do! If I had your disposition I'd go and bang myself!" Mrs. Bowser apologized. It must have been some other man who went out to see about cows and possums—some Yale or Harvard professor. She didn't mean to be sarcastic or impertinent, and if he would forgive her and go ahead he should have no further cause to complain. It took several minutes for the red to die out of his face and his feelings to become placid, and then he opened the basket and pointed to a large live lobster. It had been procured from a fish market and was resting on a bed of wet seaweed.

"Is it for breakfast?" she asked. "Of course not. It is to experiment on, and I shall write a paper to be read before the club. I hope to settle a much disputed question within the next hour. Several years ago a French naturalist announced that the lobster was susceptible to music and that he had attracted them to the shore in large numbers by playing on the mouth organ. He was at once ridiculed and booed at, but I have been appointed a committee of one by my own club to investigate and report. I have here a lobster; I also have a mouth organ.

"And you will play the mouth organ while the lobster dances?" Mr. Bowser's ears twitched and his neck reddened up, but he swallowed the lump in his throat and replied: "I shall play the mouth organ and observe what effect it has on the specimen before us. You and the blamed old cat will please keep quiet for a minute. I will begin with something sad at first."

He lifted up the little musical instrument and began the air of "The Old Oaken Bucket." As he reached the refrain the lobster moved one claw, but whether from grief or joy could not be told. The air was then changed to the "Swanee River," and the lobster reached out the other claw and rattled it against the basket.

"By Jove, but the Frenchman was right!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he cut the music short. "You saw the lobster move both claws, didn't you? He's

GETS A FORTUNE

Chicago Man Uses His Last Cent to Buy a Paper and Learns That He Is Heir to Half Million--Ran Away From Home Eight Years Ago.

Chicago, July 31.—With almost his last cent, Walter W. Condon, who ran away from home eight years ago, purchased a copy of a Chicago paper yesterday and discovered that he was being sought as the heir to $500,000 left to him by the death of an aunt in Coldwater, Mich.

Two hours later he was speeding eastward in company with his cousin, Charles Condon, who had come to Chicago on a hunt for the young man that had become rich without knowing it.

"I was almost broke," said Walter Condon, as I had been out of a job for several months and bought a Chicago paper to read the 'ads' for help wanted. Without looking at the paper I returned with it to my wife, whom I married a year ago.

"My wife was the first to notice the story on the first page. She nearly fainted but advised me to go down to the central police station.

"At the door of the city hall I met my cousin, Charles Condon, who had come here to find me. I knew him at once, although I had not seen him in eight years."

Never would have Charles Condon, the cousin, have located Walter, had not the latter chosen to come from under cover, for he had dropped the family name when he ran away from home and in this city had been known as Walter W. Cole.

BOY BADLY HURT.

Lock, O., July 31.—Master Harry Perkins, the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Franck Perkins, was badly hurt while working in the hay field on the Orlando Dumbaugh farm. A heavy upright upon which a stack of hay was to have been built fell over, striking the boy upon the back of the head and also giving him a bump over the right ear. He was rendered unconscious and the result is doubtful. Dr. Buxton of Homer is attending him.

IN FAR EAST

Berlin, July 31.—The Cologne Gazette today reports further aggression by the Russians in the east. The paper says: "The Russians have sent several hundred Cossacks to Tibet asserting that China has given them permission to march through Tibet. China denies this saying the government had instructed its agents to closely watch the Cossack movements."

FINE FISH

Sent Home From Michigan by Newark Men—A Muscalonge Weighing 28 Pounds.

A large box of fine fish shipped from Allenville, Mich., by Messrs. A. A. Stasel and Elmer Tedrick who are fishing in that locality with E. J. Maurath and the party of Newark fishermen, attracted a great deal of attention at the Adams express office Friday morning. The box, which was consigned to Mr. J. A. Chilcote contained twelve fine pike weighing from eight to twelve pounds each, one seven pound black bass, and a large muscalonge nearly four feet long, which weighed 28 pounds. The muscalonge was caught by Mr. Tedrick. The fish was distributed among the friends of the fishermen here, among them being the appreciative editor of the Advocate. Look out for some big fish stories upon the return of the party.

LECTURE

Illustrated by Stereopticon Will be Delivered Sunday Night by the Rev. Mr. Kiernan.

Probably the last of the illustrated lectures will be given by Rev. T. L. Kiernan at Plymouth Congregational church Sunday evening. That they have been interesting and instructive goes without saying. The subject of the last lecture will be the "Last Week in the Life of Christ," illustrated by views reproduced from the magnificent paintings of master artists, beautiful in color and effect. The lecture itself will be up to the high standard which marked the preceding ones. All should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear Mr. Kiernan and see the "Journey to Jerusalem," "Agony in the Garden," "Crucifixion," etc., as shown by the stereopticon.

PARKER

Will Oppose Roosevelt for the Presidency is the Opinion of Gov. ernor Odell.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 31.—Judge Alton B. Parker and Theodore Roosevelt, both of New York, will be the opposing candidates for President next year, in the opinion of Governor Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., of New York. Governor Odell reached here on his Western tour, and consented to talk politics.

"Roosevelt will be the Republican candidate in 1904," he said. "In New York we don't hear anybody else considered."

"I don't think Hanna is to be considered. My opinion is that it will be all for Roosevelt. He will get the solid support of the New York delegation in the national convention, and he will carry New York. Senator Platt and I will work in harmony for the success of the Republican ticket. All this talk of a rupture between us is not true."

"Who will be the Democratic nominee for President, in your opinion?"

"Of course that is hard to tell, but if I were to make a prediction, judging from present indications, I should say it would be Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York. He is coming up stronger right along."

It is now some 12 inches in circumference, 14 feet high, and bears very large nuts of a superior quality as a result of the careful cultivation that has been bestowed upon it.
